

Abraham Lincoln Book Shop Book List, October, 2022

Our stock of antiquarian books is larger than we can feature on our website and given the one-of-a-kind nature of these books, we cannot maintain any comprehensive list of what we have to offer. That is one reason why it is always nice to visit the Book Shop (Occasional public health restrictions permitting) and schedule enough time to enjoy yourself. However, we will periodically publish book lists featuring some selected titles that we feel are of value to collectors of Lincolniana, Civil War, Presidential and Americana books.

Our new book list features items that will make fine holiday gifts. The most important factor in choosing these books is condition. Any of these books will look great being un-wrapped at a holiday party. Many of these titles are also designed to look spectacular on a bookshelf. Some are bound in leather with bright gilt designs.

All books listed here are one-of-a-kind and subject to prior sale. Terms of sale, including shipping charges, are detailed on the Abraham Lincoln Book Shop website – www.ALincolnBookShop.com - listed under the category called “Policies.” Again, due to the very large stock of out-of-print books we have available, these books are not sold through our online sales system. If you wish to inquire about or order a title you see here, simply call us during business hours at (312) 944-3085, or contact us through our website. Our staff will be happy to discuss or more fully describe any book you see here.

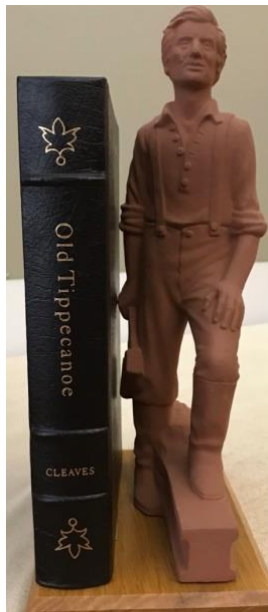

American History Books Out of Print Collectable and Desirable Featuring Excellent Gift Books

Angle, Paul M. & Miers, Earl Schenck, editors. FIRE THE SALUTE! ABE LINCOLN IS NOMINATED: Murat Halstead Reports The Republican National Convention in Chicago, May 16, 17, & 18, 1860. Kingsport, TN: Kingsport Press, 1960. Limited edition of 1,250 copies, 68(i)p., frontispiece, illustration. Halstead was still comparatively young, but was rising in journalism when he traveled the nation covering the crisis that led to the Civil War. His coverage of the Republican Convention in Chicago for the Cincinnati Commercial became the most reliable and most thrilling account of Abraham Lincoln’s nomination. Paul Angle and Earl Schenck Miers re-published Halstead’s writing in 1960 with new introduction and scholarly annotations for the centennial commemoration. This sharp-looking limited edition features a color frontispiece of Thomas Hicks’ life oil painting of the candidate from June of 1860 and an uncommon and vivid color representation of the Wigwam convention building. Book in near fine condition with errata included; slipcase sunned and splitting but still useful. SKU 000020 SOLD

Bradley, Mark. LAST STAND IN THE CAROLINAS: THE BATTLE OF BENTONVILLE MARCH 19-21, 1865. Campbell: Savas Woodbury, 1996. 1st edition, 456p., illustrations, maps. This groundbreaking study examines the myriad events that culminated in the bloody fighting at Bentonville between the armies of William T. Sherman and Joseph E. Johnston. Bradley has amassed an exhaustive array of sources - many previously unpublished - to chronicle the evolution of the Confederacy's last vigorous effort to halt Sherman's thrust through the Carolinas. Included are detailed accounts of the bitter fighting at Monroe's Crossroads and Averasboro, biographical sketches of leading participants, and 15 original campaign and tactical maps. Liquid paper residue on front end page; else very good in dust jacket. Signed on publisher's bookplate. SKU 001830-01 $75.00

Catton, Bruce. GETTYSBURG: THE FINAL FURY. New York: Doubleday, 1974. 3rd printing, 114p., frontispiece, illustrations, maps. Short, concise, well-illustrated, and wonderfully written, this is a good introduction to Gettysburg for young people. Excellent; dust jacket; slipcase. SKU 002684-02 $35.00

Cleaves, Freeman. OLD TIPPECANOE: WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON AND HIS TIME. Norwalk, CT: The Easton Press, 1986. 1st edition thus, 422p., frontispiece, illustrations, maps bound in all leather with all edges gilt. A sympathetic, but good, biography of this Indiana governor and military hero turned "forgotten" President. (ESSENTIAL PRESIDENTIAL BOOKSHELF). Fine. SKU 003578 $75.00

Connelly, Thomas L. ARMY OF THE HEARTLAND: THE ARMY OF TENNESSEE, 1861-1862. Baton Rouge: Louisiana State University Press, 1967. Reprint, 305p., illustrations, portraits, maps; and AUTUMN OF GLORY: THE ARMY OF TENNESSEE, 1862-1865. Baton Rouge: Louisiana State University Press, 1984. Reprint, 558p., illustrations, portraits, maps. A fine set of Connelly's classic history of the Confederacy's ill-starred western army. Excellent; dust jackets. SKU 008012 $60.00

Fishel, Edwin C. THE SECRET WAR FOR THE UNION: THE UNTOLD STORY OF MILITARY INTELLIGENCE IN THE CIVIL WAR. Boston: Houghton Mifflin, 1996. 1st edition, 734 p., illustrations, maps. In October 1959, at the National Archives, Fishel made a sensational discovery: the Army of the Potomac's operational files of the Bureau of Military Information, arranged with bureaucratic thoroughness and neatly tied with red tapes - undisturbed for nearly a century. Fishel has given us the first authentic history of military intelligence in the Civil War. "Certainly no period in our national history has been so minutely examined as the years 1861 to 1865. Yet until now we have almost nothing truly authentic of the critically important role of intelligence in Civil War campaigns. THE SECRET WAR FOR THE UNION is a truly groundbreaking story."- Stephen W. Sears from his Forward. Near fine; dust jacket. $75.00

Foote, Shelby. THE CIVIL WAR: A NARRATIVE. Norwalk: The Easton Press, 2010. 3 volumes, (840p.; 988p.; 1106p.), maps. The Eaton Press edition of Foote's classic trilogy, written like a novel, by a novelist. Signed, in leather, w/ raised bands, gilt inlay, & all edges gilt; lightly bumped; else excellent. SKU 007939 $875.00

Freeman, Douglas S. LEE'S LIEUTENANTS. Norwalk: The Easton Press, 1991. Reprint, 3 vols., all leather with raised spines, all edges gilt. Easton Press' collector's edition of Douglas Southall Freeman's masterpiece is bound in handsome grey leather with gilt devices on the boards. It makes a beautiful centerpiece to a fine Confederate bookshelf. Fine. SKU 003617-02 $350.00

Georg, Kathleen R., and Busey, John W. NOTHING BUT GLORY: PICKETT'S DIVISION AT GETTYSBURG. Hightstown, NJ: 1987. 1st edition, 1,000 copies printed, 693p., frontispiece, illustrations, maps. Perhaps the definitive work on Pickett and his charge, containing a descriptive roster of each of the 6288 officers and men of his command. A significant work in Gettysburg historiography. Near fine; dust jacket. SKU 001120-01 $75.00

Herndon, William H. LINCOLN & ANN RUTLEDGE AND THE PIONEERS OF NEW SALEM: A LECTURE. Herrin, IL: Trovillion Private Press, 1945. Limited edition, # 114/898, 50p., frontispiece, illustrations. A deluxe edition of Herndon's greatest contribution to Lincoln mythology. Light foxing; usual toning throughout; otherwise near fine in very good slipcase. SKU 006910 $375.00

Johannsen, Robert W. STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS. New York: Oxford University Press, 1973. 1st edition, 993p., frontispiece, maps. "At once a work of enormous scholarship and of deep insight...the full story of a great career, told with such skill that we can now understand why Abraham Lincoln found the 'Little Giant' the most formidable political rival he ever faced." - David W. Donald. "Its completeness and objectivity will make it the standard authority for many years to come." - Richard N. Current. "Should take its place in the tradition of magisterial biographies...in which so much of the best writing on American history is to be found.:" - Harry J. Jaffa. Light sunning; light wear at extremities of dust jacket. Inscribed and signed. SKU 002468 $150.00

Kunhardt, Philip B., Jr.; Philip B.; and Peter W. THE AMERICAN PRESIDENT. New York: Riverhead, 1999. 481p., illustrations, illustrated end pages. The first fully illustrated book in thirty years to examine all the U.S. Presidents, and the companion book to the PBS series. The authors of LINCOLN: AN ILLUSTRATED BIOGRAPHY and (Philip Jr.) TWENTY DAYS, arrange their chapters thematically rather than chronologically, juxtaposing the careers of four presidents who may have lived in different centuries or held different political beliefs, but who nevertheless share a defining aspect of what our country looks for in its leaders. From the independent thinkers (John Adams, Zachary Taylor, Jimmy Carter) to the professional politicians (Abraham Lincoln, Lyndon Johnson), to those who stretched the executive powers to (or beyond) their limits (Andrew Jackson, Theodore Roosevelt, Richard Nixon), these groupings render fascinating comparisons that shed new light on familiar figures as well as on the presidency itself. With some 300 color and 500 black-and-white illustrations, including rare photographs of the presidents and the White House, this landmark book will provide a new understanding of the legacy and impact of our most important American office. "I absolutely loved reading this original and fascinating approach to the American presidency. The organizational structure is brilliant, the narrative is clear and thought-provoking, and the pictures are dazzling." - Doris Kearns Goodwin. "In the ends, THE AMERICAN PRESIDENT comes together not merely as a superb job of condensing the lives of our presidents into short scope but also as a fresh and original interpretation of the history of the presidency." - David Herbert Donald. Light shelf wear; else excellent; dust jacket. ISBN $50.00

McPherson, James M. CROSSROADS OF FREEDOM: ANTIETAM 1862. Oxford: 2002. Limited edition #139/1,000, 203p., illustrations, maps. James McPherson paints a masterful account of this pivotal battle, the events that led up to it, and its aftermath. As McPherson shows, by September 1862 the survival of the United States was in doubt. The union had suffered a string of defeats, and Lee's army was in Maryland, poised to threaten Washington. The British government was openly talking of recognizing the Confederacy and brokering a peace between North and South. Northern armies and voters were demoralized. And Lincoln had shelved his proposed edict of emancipation months before, waiting for a victory that had not come. Both sides knew that they were marching toward a decisive battle. It came along the ridges and in the woods and cornfields between Antietam Creek and the Potomac River. Valor, misjudgment, and astonishing coincidence all played a role in the outcome. McPherson vividly describes a day of savage fighting in locales that became forever famous - the Cornfield, the Dunkard Church, the West Woods, and Bloody Lane. Lee's battered army escaped to fight another day, but Antietam was a critical victory for the Union. McPherson brilliantly weaves these strands of diplomatic, political and military history into a compact, swift-moving narrative that shows why America's bloodiest day is, indeed, a crossroads. As new. Signed. An outstanding book recommended highly! SKU ISBN $75.00

Nevins, Allan. GROVER CLEVELAND: A STUDY IN COURAGE. Norwalk: The Easton Press, 1932. Reprint, 832p., frontispieces, plates. The best biography of Cleveland, by one of the greatest American historians. Winner of the Pulitzer Prize. This edition is part of Easton Press' The Library of the Presidents. Noe, Kenneth W. PERRYVILLE: THIS GRAND HAVOC OF BATTLE. Lexington: University Press of Kentucky, 2001. 1st edition, 494p., illustrations, maps. On October 8, 1862, Union and Confederate forces clashed near Perryville, Kentucky, in what would be the largest battle ever fought on Kentucky soil and what would come to be recognized as the high-water mark of the western

Confederacy. Although Gen. Braxton Bragg's Confederates won the day, Bragg soon retreated in the face of Gen. Don Carlos Buell's overwhelming numbers. "Kenneth W. Noe details in stirring prose backed by impressive research the full dimension of the campaign and the battle that ended in a tactical victory yet could not win Kentucky for the South. Noe has produced in Perryville a work that will stand as the definitive word on a lost opportunity, and a lost dream." - William C. Davis. Very good; dust jacket. SKU 001846

Rable, George C. FREDERICKSBURG! FREDERICKSBURG! Chapel Hill: University of North Carolina Press, 2002. 1st edition, 671p., illustrations, maps. During the battle of Gettysburg, as Union troops along Cemetery Ridge rebuffed Pickett's Charge, they were heard to shout, "Give them Fredericksburg!" Their cries reverberated from a clash that, although fought some six months earlier, clearly loomed large in the minds of Civil War soldiers. Fought on December 13, 1862, Fredericksburg ended in a stunning defeat for the Union. Lee suffered roughly 5,000 casualties but inflicted more than twice that many losses (nearly 13,000) on his opponent, General Ambrose Burnside. As news of the Union loss traveled north, it spread a wave of public despair that extended all the way to Lincoln. In the beleaguered Confederacy, the southern victory bolstered flagging hopes, as Lee and his men began to take on an aura of invincibility. Rable offers a gripping account of the battle and places the campaign within its broader political, social, and military context, blending battlefield and home front history and addressing questions of strategy, tactics, and the rhythms and disruptions of military life. "A sweeping narrative riddled with illuminating details, previously unknown information, and extremely valuable analysis..." - T. Michael Parrish. Very good; dust jacket. Signed bookplate.
